

WHAT IS THE AZURE MIGRATION AND MODERNIZATION PROGRAM?

The Azure Migration and Modernization Program is a set of tools and services offered by Microsoft Azure to help organizations migrate their existing applications and infrastructure to the Azure cloud platform. The program includes a range of tools and services to help organizations plan, execute, and manage their migration and modernization efforts.

The program includes tools such as Azure Migrate, which helps organizations assess their existing infrastructure and applications and plan their migration to Azure. It also includes services such as Azure Site Recovery, which provides disaster recovery capabilities for applications running on Azure, and Azure Database Migration Service, which helps organizations migrate their databases to Azure.

In addition to migration services, the program also includes modernization services to help organizations optimize their applications and infrastructure once they are running on Azure. This includes services such as Azure App Service, which provides a platform for building and hosting web and mobile applications, and Azure Kubernetes Service, which provides a platform for managing and orchestrating containers.

Overall, the Azure Migration and Modernization Program is designed to help organizations make the most of the benefits of cloud computing by providing the tools and services needed to migrate and modernize their applications and infrastructure on the Azure platform.
